

ABSTRACT

A bracket for lingual orthodontics, comprising a base (2) to be fastened onto the lingual side of a tooth, three engaging tabs (4, 5, 6) adapted to engage and hold a system (9) for binding the dental arc, a housing (3) for an orthodontic wire (8) which extends along the dental arc, and a member (7) for retaining the orthodontic wire within said housing (3), which extends only along a limited segment thereof and facing the housing (3) in such a way as to abut the orthodontic wire (8) received in said housing (3).